Who doesn't love Benefit? Fun, your drinking table up with lipout, Benefit's new fragrance. The combination of mango, tinea and peony make for a sexy, fluffy and floral fragrance.

It might be a little chilly these days but don't even think about heading for your light sweater just yet. September is still bare legs month so make sure yours are looking their very best with Tan-tastic, a tanned gel formula that gives an instant visible tan which lasts for up to five days.

I'm all for the detoxing, and no better time than the post party month of September. For a little push in the right direction, try nighty detox patches, a natural patch that you stick on the sole of your foot at night and hopefully, come morning, your toxic load will be a little lighter.
