ZERO1 REACHES NEW HEIGHTS

Technodesign of Italy has enhanced its Nuvola Zero1 dry floatation massage table. This cutting-edge system, already allows operators to select a specific water temperature and light colour, which shines through the table's clear plastic surface. Different 'wave' or 'tide' water massage options (moving from the feet to neck) can also be selected. The latest features, however, include a height adjustment option, ranging from 68cm to 82cm. Also new is a head-rest, to help clients adopt a position that ensures the correct alignment of the spinal column. Finally, it now incorporates an aromatherapy system for customised treatments.

A SALTY ENVIRONMENT FROM SALUS

Polish-based salt therapy specialists the Salus Group now offer a Salt House and a Salt Grotto. The company says that both structures have been designed to replicate the environment found in naturally formed underground salt caves, which have been sought out for centuries for their healing qualities. The Salt House is timber built, hexagonal in shape, available in a variety of sizes and comes with seating for up to eight people. The Salt Grotto is fully furnished and has coloured lighting to create a relaxing atmosphere. The structures are said to be suitable for installation at spas, hotels, sports and recreation centres, clinics and rehabilitation units.
